IN PERSPECTIVE 1973-74

Graduation 1974 comes at a time of grave uncertainty in the world. The most serious economic crisis since the Great Depression of 1929 now faces the Western World. The European Economic Community is threatened with break-up, as inflation jumps to twenty percent this year. The United States and Canada seem to have difficulty in holding the increase in the cost of living index to ten percent per year. On top of the economic crisis, and contributing to it, is the lack of stability and continuity in political leadership. The Great Republic is tearing itself apart in an effort to destroy the President. Even Henry Kissinger, the most successful diplomat of the Twentieth Century, is threatened by the "holier than thou" attitude of Congress towards those in executive positions. In Western Europe, all four of the major powers, Britain, France, West Germany and Italy, have leaders who have been in office less than six months, and who seem unable to unite their people in coping democratically with the economic problems which beset them.

Canada goes to the federal polls on July 8. At this moment the electorate seem to be unaware of the seriousness of the political decision they are about to make. There has so far been little interest in the election campaign, and an apparent indifference to the economic crisis which faces both Canada and the Western World.

Against this background of uncertainty, another class is being graduated from Saint John High School Two hundred and twenty-six students have been successful out of a class of two hundred and forty-two. These students come from the Grade X class of 1971-72 of two hundred and sixty-seven, which was a year of low enrollment. Consequently the number of our graduates is fewer than that of 1970, 71 and 73.

To a considerable extent the academic success of this year's graduates has already been influenced by the uncertainty of the economy. Well over one half of the Grade XII class have throughout the year been holding down positions of part-time employment. In some cases this has amounted to as many as forty hours of work a week. One graduate earned over four thousand dollars last year while in supposedly full time attendance at school. The shopping malls of our City would have to close down if parents and teachers insisted that education was a full time activity, and put a ban on evening and week-end employment. Few would wish to go that far; yet it has to be stated that the quality and depth of academic study has suffered because of the economic pressure upon households for more dollars to balance the family budget. Elsewhere in this booklet, in comments on the placement of our graduates, it is made clear that prevailing economic conditions are leading an increasing number of graduates into permanent employment immediately after leaving school. Seventy-nine of the 1973 graduates went directly to work, more than twice as many as in any year of the 1960's. This year's class will continue the trend. For the first time in many years, the class leader will not be going to university; N.B. TEL will be the gainers and U.N.B. the losers. Whether the trend is good or bad is debatable, but it needs to be pointed out, and it is not a trend that is confined to Saint John High. Across the nation there is a sense of disillusionment with university studies, and a renewed interest in vocational education.

At the level of senior high school there appears at present to be little evidence of dissatisfaction with academic studies. The number of drop-outs has not increased, and enrollment into the academic high schools is holding up well at a time when the declining birth rate of the late fifties and early sixties is reducing the number of youngsters in each age bracket.

Saint John High School has been very fortunate this year in demonstrating success in a wide variety of activities. The nation wide acclaim for the School production of "Romeo and Juliet" is a fitting tribute to the great talent and enormous diligence of Mr. Andrew Garrod, the director of so many plays and musicals that have enriched the lives of the students who took part, and of the Saint John audiences who have been entertained. The exciting brand of hockey which the School team has developed over the years, has taken us twice to the Provincial play-offs, and has secured a spectator following which is the envy of professional teams. In all our activities, we have been blessed with enthusiastic involvement, and skilled and dedicated supervision.

There are those who claim that the days of the old fashioned, downtown, academic high school are numbered, and that soon all students will wish to travel out to the suburban complexes of comprehensive education. This Graduation Class offers compelling evidence of the continuing vitality and excellence of Saint John High School at a time of crisis and change in society.

To the gratuates of 1974 do the congratulations and best wishes of all from Canada's oldest City and Canada's oldest public school.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT 1973-74

GRADE	BOYS	GIRLS	TOTAL	WITHDREW
XII	137	114	251	7
XI	156	145	301	18
X	135	159	294	5
Total	428	418	846	30

Enrollment was down slightly from 868 last year, but was up on the 1971-72 figure of 829. Grade XII was smaller this year, and consequently the number of graduates is down. However, there is no immediate cause for concern, although in the long run, with a diminished birthrate after 1957 throughout the country, the only way that school population figures will be kept up is by movement of people into the City of Saint John, and there is no evidence of this at present. On the contrary, the City population is declining whereas Rothesay is a fast growing area. We are pleased with the more than fifty Rothesay students who attend Saint John High, and hope that this pattern will continue.

The withdrawals are classified in four headings:-

(1) Those who move away from Saint John with their families (three).
(2) Those who transfer to other High Schools in the City (six).
(3) Those who drop out of school, but return in September (six).
(4) Those who drop out of school in order to gain employment (fourteen).

(1973 Graduation Class - Where they went)

There were 270 students in Grade XII last year . 248 were graduated in June, 9 were not placed (previous graduation or part-time courses), 6 were graduated in September as a result of Summer School, and 7 did not reach the required standard. One hundred and seventy-seven continued their education beyond senior high school.

Seventy-nine joined the work force, one entered the armed forces, and nine returned to Grade XII.

The significant change in the placement of graduates from SJHS lies in the increasing number who go directly from school to employment. The proportion has doubled in the last three years. The trend may be explained in two ways. Firstly, the impact of inflation has induced more students to seek immediate dollars. Secondly, the disenchantment of young people with university studies appears to be widespread, and has somehow become associated with the evident lack of earning power of the university degree.

GIRLS SPORTS

This year for the first time we presented four gold A's. A gold A is presented to any girl who earns 2000 points in three years. Points are given for participation in such extra-curricular activities as band, choir, drama, school publications, student council, school police, cheerleaders, making honours, intramural and interscholastic sports. The girls who received their gold A's were - BARB MacMILLAN, KAREN McKENZIE, PAM WHIPPLE, and DEBBIE WOOLWAY.

The following twenty-one girls received their Silver A's for earning 1000 points.

Suzanne Akerley	Crystal Lister
Kathy Beattie	Cindy MacDonald
Cathy Burnett	Susan MacMackin
Dale Caines	Kathy Maxwell
Diane Daigle	Kim Myles
Sue Dykeman	Melda Patterson
Linda Enman	Mary Perrin
Elizabeth Foster	Dottie Price
Geralyn Giovannetti	Carmel Rooney
Patsy Hart	Heather Wright
Sue Keir

A large number of girls participated in the intramural program held in the noon hours. This program is designed to allow the girls to practise skills learned in Physical Education classes and engage in competition with and to meet other students.

The interscholastic sports program began in the fall with volleyball, field hockey, golf and swimming. The varsity volleyball team won the "AA" provincial title this season. The junior varsity team won the Southern Conference title. Field hockey finished fourth in the Conference. A girls team took part in a golf tournament this season and the swim team participated successfully in several dual meets and finished second in the N.B.I.A.A. provincial meet held the first week-end in December.

In winter sports the junior badminton team placed first in both the Southern Conference and in the provincial tournaments. The senior team placed second in each tournament. In basketball, both the varsity and junior varsity teams took part in Conference play with neither team placing high enough in the standings to advance to tournament play. Girls ice hockey became a reality this season with the girls playing in an organized league. Although they did not finish on top they scored a couple of wins in the playoffs. The girls also took part in curling this year but were unable to advance to provincial play.

In May the tennis team began practising and a number of girls advanced to semi-finals with Cindy MacDonald winning the senior singles title. The young inexperienced softball team finished third in their section and are looking forward to a good season next year. The senior track team finished second in Southern Conference meet while the juniors remained in fifth position. The top three finalists advanced to the provincial level to receive a few ribbons.

The 1973-74 was a productive one for girls extra-curricular activities.

BOYS SPORTS

Soccer : The school team placed second in the Southe: Conference League.This year could be counted as a successful one as the few losses were by one goal. A good team is expected for next year.

Canadian Football: The team moved into a strong second place finish this year in Conference play and with many of the players returning next year, perhaps a Conference championship is in the future.

Swimming : After a year's absence, the NBIAA Swimming and Diving Championship once more has returned to SJHS. The boys team fought out a narrow victory over numerous other provincial teams to reclaim the trophy. Next year looks like a rebuilding year as many of our good swimmers will graduate this year.

Basketball: This year's team finished a tie for second place in Conference play and went on to the provincials. The team bowed out in semi-final play. Next year's team shows promise.

Golf: With a completely new and young team this year, our five golfers placed third in Conference play and with the boys returning next year, our position will improve.

Volleyball : For the ninth consecutive year the boys team won the Southern Conference title. They then went on to provincial play to win the long sought after provincial "AA" crown. With the loss of only one Grade XII player through graduation, and a large majority of the team being in Gr. X augurs well for volleyball at SJHS.

Badminton : Once again our team proved very strong with our jr. team showing the way. The juniors won both the Conference and the NBIAA crowns with ease. The senior team lacked depth but our top seniors placed very well in many tournaments,both interscholastic and open.

Curling: This year the team reached the finals in City and District but did not place in Southern Conference play. With only one curler leaving the ranks, the team should prove stronger next year.

Track and Field: With the seniors leading the way, the boys track team won the Southern Championship. The junior and senior teams placed second in the NBIAA meet.

Hockey: Again this year, Saint John High produced an outstanding hockey team, which attracted massive support both from the school and from the general public. After winning the Southern Conference crown for the second consecutive year, the team won the Provincial senior final over Tantramar High, and then bowed out in the final, after very determined play , to Fredericton High School.

The Southern Conference consists of:-

Millidgeville North
Simonds Senior High
St. Stephen
Saint John Voc.
St. Andrews
St. Malachy's
Rothesay Regional
Sussex
Rothesay Collegiate
Hampton
Eastern Charlotte Reg.
Saint John High

"H" Letters are awarded for involvement in extra-curricular activities, both in sports and other school clubs. This year Michael Toole and Steve Morgan achieved plaques of distinction.

Letter awards were made to -

David Currie	Harold Nason
Bryan Dishar	Calvin MacDonald
David Logan	Wayne McKnight
Greg Nason

DRAMA AND MUSIC

From Provincial recognition in 1973, the Saint John High School Drama Club has moved to national acclaim in 1974. "Romeo and Juliet" was performed at the National Drama Festival in St. John's, Newfoundland, on May 8, and received the warmest and most enthusiastic response of all the performances at that Festival. It was the only production to receive more than one CBC bursary, and Mr. Andrew Garrod, the director, and Steven Morgan, actor, are to be congratulated on their awards. The entire venture, involving the transportation of some seventy students and four faculty members at a cost of over eight thousand dollars, showed both the team approach and the insistence on individual excellence, which are the hall marks of the Saint John High School Drama Club.

"Romeo and Juliet" was performed at the School for four nights in late February before large and enthusiastic audiences, and then moved for an evening to Fredericton Playhouse.

"She Stoops to Conquer" was produced in Oct. and ran for a week in the intimate atmosphere of the little stage in Room 3.

The School musical in April was "My Fair Lady", and was judged by many to be of the same outstanding quality as "Fiddler on the Roof" from 1972. It attracted large and appreciative audiences on all four nights.

The School Choir again distinguished itself in the performance of Handel's Messiah as part of the Saint John Atlantic Choir, accompanied by the Atlantic Symphony Orchestra. Three performances were given in Saint John, Fredericton, and Moncton in December. The Choir has also performed publicly at Loch Lomond Villa, the Cathedral, and in the annual Rotary Festival of Song. In the Music Festival, the Choir achieved the highest marks of 93 and 92 in the school choir section.

Instrumental players have done very well this year as the major component of the City Schools Senior Band.

A number of them are also involved in the National Youth Orchestra.

An understanding and love of good music are distinguishing features of Saint John High School students, and visiting performers always speak highly of the enthusiastic reception that they receive from the student body.

CLUBS AND SOCITIES 1973-74

The Chess Club had a large and capable membership under the captaincy of Chris McIntyre. They won the City and District Trophy for the fifth consecutive year. The N.B. Junior Chess Champion is club member Fred McKim.

The Year Book has recovered from the financial crisis of 1973, thanks to the diligence of Miss Carter and Miss Morrell, and to the generous advertising by many City businesses.

"Red and Gray 74" is a production of which the school and its editor, Stephanie Stears, may well be proud. In spite of continuing inflation, it has held its price to four dollars.

Debating has attracted a small but capable group of students this year. They have participated in a number of tournaments, and show great promise. Allison Hughes represented them in the National Debating Championships in Ottawa.

The Library Club has worked hard and well under the capable direction of Mr. Robert Taylor, the new librarian. Besides their endeavours to improve the efficiency of rental and returns, they have joined in making possible the repainting of the library, its ceiling, walls and shelves.

The Photography Club has again provided excellent service for drama, sports, and the Year Book in recording the activities of the school. In addition, they have worked hard with the Communications classes in preparing films and transparencies.

The Junior Red Cross again organized the annual blood donor clinic.

Inter-School Christian Fellowship - regular meetings were held, and this devoted group of evangelicals strengthened their faith.

United Nations Club - apart from sending a student each year to Mt. Allison Seminar, the Club remains dormant. We live in hope of a revived interest in international affairs in the Port City.

Newsletter - a number of issues have appeared during the year to present news and views of students by students.

Cheerleaders - the fifteen cheerleaders have performed their function of boosting school teams with mixed efficiency during the year. Their devotion to the boys teams appears to be especially strong.
