SAINT JOHN HIGH SCHOOL

1984-85

IN PERSPECTIVE 1984-85

1985 is an historic year for Saint John. It marks both the bi centennial of our Royal Charter creating Canada's first incorporated City, and also the hosting of the Canada Summer Games. Our athletes have watched with excitement the opening of the splendid Aquatic Centre down town and the construction of the fine all weather track and stadium at Tucker Park. When the Summer Games are held in August the whole city, and especially our young people, will take pride in our new facilities and give a great welcome to the many visitors who will come to Saint John.

Regrettably this historic year is being overshadowed by a world wide depression which has deepened as the nineteen eighties move along. In the United States Ronald Reagan has not surprisingly been given a second term as President. He has so far resisted the demand for higher protective tariffs, and has reduced both unemployment and the inflation rate. Last September Canadians changed governments and gave Brian Mulroney's Conservatives a huge majority, but, in spite of their best intentions, unemployment remains over ten per cent. Particularly hard hit are young people who lack the necessary experience in specific job skills. There are some openings in the new stores of Market Square, at the Hilton Hotel and at the Trade and Convention Centre, but it is difficult to build a life long career from these position.

To some extent, in these hard times, young people have turned to more education. For the third year in a row fifteen or more graduates have returned to Grade XII to improve their standing or to take further subjects. But the route has often been one of despair rather than a positive thrust to further education, and a third of them have dropped out. We try to maintain an air of optimism - that job demand will increase in the next year or two - and most students respond with a worth while effort. There is no question that the upper half produce as they have always done, with a superior effort and excellent attendance. It is the lower half that cause concern. They have not received or understood the message that in Depression times all of us have to do our very best in a competitive world.

Our enrollment figures indicate the increasing popularity of Saint John High School. Since the start of the year over forty students have transferred to us, so that at the end of the year we show a net increase. In September we shall take over four hundred new students into Grade X, and this is happening in a year when Junior High numbers are at a record low. The appeal of the International Baccalaureate Program which was successfully initiated this year, provides an added drawing card to our academic reputation. This year also we set up our first French immersion class of fifteen students. Next year the numbers will increase.

Our extra curricular program has also enhanced our reputation. We have had another successful year in sports, especially football, rugby, swimming, badminton and track and field. Besides an exciting boys hockey team, we have also fielded outstanding Girls hockey and soccer teams. We have not won every game, but we have played hard in good spirit, and we have shown commendable sportsmanship. These qualities have been consistently encouraged by an admirable group of coaches, some within the school staff, and some outside. Other extra curricular operations have been performed with distinction. The school musical production of the Mikado was a highlight, as were other drama productions which were commendably directed by students. In travel, debating, science fair, school newspaper and the yearbook, great efforts have been taken to ensure quality. At the same time, a large number of young people have been creatively engaged in worthwhile activities.

There has been another factor to explain our resurgence, and that is the overwhelming sense of camaraderie and good will which pervades the student body. All our visitors have noted it in school assemblies, and many guests at our school dances have commented enviously on the excellent rapport which exists between students and teachers. Besides the faculty, who have laboured hard and long, tribute must also be paid to the Student Council whose sensitive and sensible leadership has made this an outstanding year.

It is with pleasure that we record at year's end that the Provincial Government is responding to the needs of the school by authorizing major renovations. Vice Principal Thorne has worked closely with the architectural firm of Disher and Steen to produce drawings for substantial improvements in the lay out of the school, and for the updating of the electrical, heating and plumbing installations. This building, in its fifty three years of operation, has served not only two generations of high school students, but also the wider community of Greater Saint John with its auditorium, music room, gymnasium and swimming pool. The renovations which will take two years to complete will require a lot of cooperation and good will in a time of dislocation. When they are completed we shall have a building ready to continue its record of service to the young people and to the community of Saint John.

As we honour the graduates of 1985 this evening, let the record show that Saint John High continues to shine as a beacon of excellence and of optimism in the darkness of a world depression. We retain faith in our motto "Vita Vitalis - a life worthwhile". Our graduates by their example are generating confidence in a brighter tomorrow as the City moves into its Third Century.

For the past seventeen years he has been Head of the Physics Department. All of us join in saying thank you and wishing Arthur well in retirement.

Leaving this June for a one year break will be Mrs. Betsy Worrell who is to take a Masters in Guidance at Florida State University. Mr. Robert Perry will also be away from his Biology Lab next year on the deferred salary scheme.

Returning to us in September 1985 will be Mrs. Sandra Thorne (History), Mr. Robert Taylor (Math and French) and Miss Lynn Kristoffersen (French and German), all of whom have been on educational leave or leave of absence. Because of increased enrollment in the next academic year, we shall have fifty one and a half teachers instead of the forty-four and a half that we had this year.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT 1984-85

GRADE	BOYS	GIRLS	TOTAL SEPT. 1984	ADDITIONS	DEPART-URES	TOTAL JUNE 1985

TOTAL	465	449	914	43	42	915

Enrollment was higher this year because a larger number of students entered from Junior High. One of the surprising features of the year was the steady influx of students during the year, mainly from St. Malachy's but also from other city schools, and even five from Kennebecasis Valley High School. There was the usual outflow - nine moved away from the City with their families, ten transferred to other city schools (mainly Grade X's) and twenty three dropped out (mainly Grade XII's who had returned after Graduation). The surprising outcome, the first time ever for our school, and I suspect for most schools, is that we ended the year with more students than we started with.

Predictions for next September are another surprise that we shall increase to over 1050 students, thus surpassing the previous record enrollment of 1024 in 1980. Various explanations for our popularity have been suggested. The revitalization of the City Centre may be a noon hour attraction, since we are the closest school to Market Square. But we like to think that our new International Baccalaureate Program, which is referred to elsewhere, and the successful beginning of French Immersion Classes may have helped. The coaches of our many sports teams suggest that our athletic program is also a drawing card. Whatever the secret may be, we certainly hope to provide as good an education as we can to our young people and prepare them for worthwhile adult lives.

PLACEMENT OF THE 1984 GRADUATION CLASS

There were 282 students in Grade XII last year. 241 were graduates in June, and 7 more received their Thomas in August after successfully completing summer school. Of the remaining 38, seventeen had graduated previously, eleven returned to Saint John High to take Grade XII again, and ten went into the work force.

Of the 241 graduates, ten returned to Saint John High to improve their marks, forty four went to work, four went into the Armed Forces, one returned to his homeland to University, and one hundred and eighty three went on to further education.

On the ice the Girl Greyhounds seem able to out do their male counterparts. They enjoyed their third straight championship. In these three years they have not been defeated by any other high school team. Mr. Tom Keaveney has been their coach and he pays tribute to the performance of four graduates - Anna Marie Burke, Tanya Floyd, Lori Parlee and Pam Hoben.
